■ SUGAR SPOTS...

U.S. dockworkers and employers have returned to the bargaining table to discuss the use of automation at ports. A potential 3-day strike could begin on Jan. 15 if a resolution is not reached.

The FDA yesterday proposed a new rule requiring manufacturers to display info about sodium, added sugar, and saturated fat on the front of F&B packaging, which could take effect as early as 2028. Once the rule is finalized, large manufacturers will have three years to update packaging, while smaller brands will have an additional year.

President Trump is pushing for early renegotiations of the U.S.-Mexico-Canada trade agreement. The USMCA pact isn't up for review until 2026, but Trump is threatening to impose stiff tariffs in a move to expedite renegotiations.

Rail operator Canadian Pacific Kansas City reached a tentative 4-year collective bargaining agreement with Unifor, covering about 1,200 employees. The details of the agreement will become public after its ratification.

■ WASDE... DECEMBER 2024 WASDE REPORT

SUGAR: U.S. sugar supply for 2024/25 is increased by 231,466 short tons, raw value (STRV) to 14.251 million on an increase in imports only partially offset by reduced sugar production and lower beginning stocks. High-tier raw sugar imports are increased 118,712 STRV to 161,313 on actual imports recorded by Customs and Border Protection (CBP) through the first week of December. High tier refined sugar imports are unchanged from last month at 260,535 STRV and the sugar-equivalent of molasses imported by refiners is also unchanged at 54,645 STRV. Imports from Mexico are expected to increase 225,963 STRV to 620,925 to meet U.S. Needs as stipulated this month in the CVD Suspension Agreement administrated by the Department of Commerce. Beet sugar production is decreased by 50,000 STRV on lower amounts of sugar extracted from sugarbeet molasses. Because there are no use changes, the change in supply flows through to ending stocks for a projected total of 1.696 million STRV, implying a stocks-to-use ratio of 13.5 percent.

For 2023/24, re-export imports as estimated by FAS are increased 46,032 STRV to 271,521. Deliveries for human consumption from direct consumption imports increase by the 46,032

STRV-total to 12.400 million STRV.

There are no changes to components of supply and use in the Mexico balance sheet for either 2023/24 or 2024/25. Although 2024/25 total exports are projected unchanged at 1.006 million metric tons (MT), exports under license to the United States increase 193,387 MT and are exactly offset by a like-reduction of exports to countries not under license.
